

Customized Training

Upon request, and for a fee, we can design and present training on various ADA-related topics, including requirements and obligations of towns, school systems, restaurants, health care facilities and other private businesses.

We can also arrange workshops on Information Technology presented by the New England ADA and Accessible Information Technology Center.

www.adacc.net

The Coalition maintains a website that has information that is both interesting and insightful. Visit www.adacc.net for updates on our activities, the news about ADA-related developments in our state and across the country.

ADA Coordinator

ADACC has a membership of ADA coordinators from Connecticut municipalities, state agencies, non-profit organizations, libraries, educational institutions and private enterprises.

ADACC offers our member ADA coordinators workshop and technical assistance opportunities not available anywhere else. We can also connect you to certification programs. Members pay $100 annual dues and receive discounts on workshops, priority notice of events, and one complimentary ticket to the ADACC Annual Meeting. Contact us to join today!

Purpose

The ADA Coalition of Connecticut was formed in 1992 to promote compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The only organization in the state singularly devoted to educating you about the ADA, ADACC acts as a catalyst for change by means of workshops, training and technical assistance.

ADACC is the state affiliate of the New England ADA and Accessible Information Technology Center.

How Can We Help

Do you know what the ADA means? How the ADA is structured? Or how it works? ADACC provides information and technical assistance on the ADA to individuals with disabilities and their families, employers, private businesses, state and local governments and any member of the public.

We can help you answer many

Q: Who is protected from employment discrimination under the ADA?

Q: Does an employer have to give preference to a qualified applicant with a disability over other applicants?

Q: What are some of the accommodations that job applicants and employees need?

Q: What changes must a city, town or state agency make to its existing facilities to make them accessible?

Q: Are services and programs required to accommodate persons with disabilities?

Q: Must services be provided in a way that increases opportunities to interact with persons who do not have disabilities?

ADA questions such as:

Q: What is a self-evaluation?

Q: What kinds of auxiliary aids and services are required by the ADA to ensure effective communication with individuals with hearing or vision impairments?

Q: What does the term "readily achievable" mean?

Q: Are businesses entitled to any tax benefit to help pay for the cost of compliance?

Q: Does the ADA impact private apartments and private homes?

Q: How does the ADA affect existing state and local building codes?

Q: Is the landlord or the tenant responsible for ADA compliance in leased places of public accommodation?

ADACC is funded by the New England ADA Center at the Institute for Human Centered Design through the U.S. Dept. of Education and the National Institute on Disability Rehabilitation and Research.
